

Committee Looks at Expanding Lansdowne Jury

Josh Pringle with Stephanie Kinsella

Tuesday, February 9, 2010

There could soon be seven members on the jury for the Lansdowne Park Design Competition.

The Planning and Environment Committee has endorsed the addition of three spots to the jury, including Marianne McKenna as part of a design advisory panel.

Councillor Bob Monette says having more national planners and architects examine the proposals is worth the cost.

The jury is tasked with selecting the winning design for the Lansdowne Park green space.

Full Council must endorse the changes.

Local Headlines

College Teachers Vote Today on Final Offer

Final Flu Shot Clinic Today

Water/Sewer Rates Going Up 10%

CTV Fire Investigation Delayed

Ottawa Ranks 12th on Romantic City List

Public Board Prepares for Full-Day Kindergarten

OPP Searches Williams's Westboro Home

Committee Approves Sewage Storage Tanks

Lynx Stadium Could Remain Empty: Councillor

Charges Laid in Connection with Shooting

Committee Looks at Expanding Lansdowne Jury

Share the Seats: OC Transpo

46-hundred Artists Living in Ottawa

Students Raise Thousands for Earthquake Relief

Polaris Institute Wants Tap Water More Accessible

Colonel Charged with Murder

Delcan Backs Out of Transportation Study

Councillor Asks Legal Staff to Review Doucet's Letter to NCC