

Orléans roundabout gets the go-ahead

A multi-lane roundabout was approved by council today for the intersection at St. Joseph and Jeanne D'Arc boulevards in Orléans. Councillors Rob Jellett, Michel Bellemare and Bob Monette, whose ward borders on the intersection, dissented. The roundabout will cost $1.7 million and must be complete by March 2011 to qualify for federal stimulus money that the city plans to use for the project.
